Parking Ordinance And Registration Approved by Board

The registration of automobiles and the location of parking areas have been approved by the Board of Regents regarding the solution of the parking problem. This will become effective Monday, September 15.

Any college or Horace Mann student operating an automobile on the campus must register the car, secure a tag (decal) showing registration which must be displayed on the rear window and park the car in the designated area. The colors of the decals must coincide with the colors of the signs in each parking area. The registration fee is to be $1.00 per semester.

Students living in the quads, dormitories or College Heights must complete and return the application for registration permit form and the fee of $1.00 to the Business Office before September 5. The parking permits will then be available on Registration Day.

Students using their parent's car on weekends should not register the car. All other students must register their car on Registration Day and will be given a permit.

College employees must register their cars in the Business Office before September 10. Permits will be given upon the registration of the automobile. The employed personnel of the college will be provided an identification tag and (Continued on Page Two)

Senate Appoints Upperclassmen to Aid in Orientation

Approximately thirty upperclassmen have been selected by the Student Senate to help in this Fall's freshman orientation.

A few of these upperclassmen will act as counselors in the dormitories. Others will act as freshman advisers.

The primary function of the upperclassmen is to assist in pre-registration of freshman orientation week. This is the orientation period three days prior to upperclassman registration.

The students who have been selected to arrive early on campus have the following duties: to act as guides on freshman tours, to participate in get acquainted sessions, to instigate get acquainted record and band dances, to participate in panel discussion such as "What I Wish I Had Known" as a Freshman, to assist in procuring or helping in the orientation testing program.

These selected students will arrive on campus late Sunday afternoon, September 7. Meal tickets will be assigned in order to dine early in the cafeteria.

Only those selected are eligible to be on campus during orientation week.

Registration

Registration this Fall involves a few simple steps in order to properly register. They are as follows:

Graduating Seniors Are Honored at Dormitory

Graduating seniors of the women's dormitory were honored by a dormitory party July 10 according to Mrs. Luer.

Approximately forty girls participated in the party. The theme of the program evolved around the TV station of Northwest Missouri State College. The roving reporter, Bobbie Bearcat, was portrayed by the witty Bobbie Boeger. Mr. Bearcat was very busy meeting Hollywood personalities on the corner of Hollywood and Vine.

The following are the stars interviewed by the roving reporter: June Taylor Dancers—Vade Sundell, Sharon Owens, Sharon Majors, Lovelle Hunziger, Jerry Davis, Karen Graham, Kay Johnson, Nadine Wolf, Joyce Wolf and Mary Jane Hinderliter. Andy Griffith—Pat Dunham.

The McGuire Sisters—Rose, Rabe and Crystal Rabe. Sponsor—Donna Krieger. Instructor—Barbara Crowe. The Shakespearean Players—Mary Irvine, Mary Ellen Watkins, Peggie Leslie, Marge McClure and Gloria Jackson. Marge and Gower Champion—Jerry Davis and Kay Noel.

The Purple People Eaters—Shermalyne Cabiness and Joan Hull. Comedian—Gloria Jackson.

The program was then climaxed by the introduction of the graduating seniors. Romana Day introduced the following seniors: Patsy Salmon, Barbara Crowe, Nadene Wolf, Sharon Majors, Leola Rager, Marilyn Henry and Roberta Maxon.

Refreshments of cookies, punch and mints were served following the introduction of the seniors. Deloris Mather, Kathryn Clark, Evelyn Brummett, Virginia Borkowski, Mary Irvine and Nancy Main were on the refreshment committee.

Among those on the clean-up committee were Peggy Buddenburg, Marcena Ostott and Mary Roll.

The party was enjoyed by the graduating seniors as well as all other members of the women's dormitory.

An inspection by two educational associations was held on the Northwest Missouri State College campus last week for the purpose of evaluation of the institution, according to President J. W. Jones.

The North Central Association and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education were conducting a joint evaluation of the college. Dr. Ronald B. Thompson, Executive Dean of Special Services at Ohio State University, and Dr. Dan Cooper, Director of the Division of Education at Purdue University, represented the North Central Association. ## Miss Dora B. Smith Addresses Summer Graduating Seniors

Miss Dora B. Smith, who taught at NWMSC for 33 years, will give the principal address at the summer commencement service Aug. 2.

Miss Smith is a native Missourian. She was born in Cooper County near Boonville, grew up in that area and attended an academy there. Her higher education was received through attendance of several colleges and universities over the country. She received her Bachelor of Science in Education from Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg and then a Bachelor of Philosophy degree from the University of Chicago. She was awarded her Master's degree from the Columbia University's Teachers' College. Several summers were spent doing work on the campuses of Missouri University, University of Colorado, and Northwestern University.

Early in her teaching career, Miss Smith taught two years in county schools, four years in the Butler High School, Butler, Missouri, and four years at the Arkansas State Teachers College. She traveled abroad the summer of 1931 with Miss Estella Bowman, also a retired NWMSC instructor. Miss Smith feels that the three months spent in Europe brought to her some of the most important phases of her education.

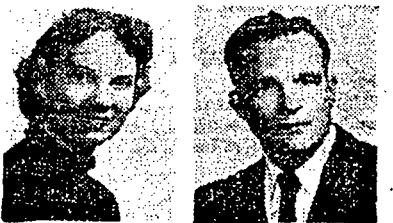

When first coming to the Maryville campus, Miss Smith was a seventh and eighth grade supervising teacher in the department of education and then took up the teaching of laboratory reading work for college freshmen.

Miss Smith, who is active in giving talks and rendering services wherever she is needed, is now residing in Maryville at 512 South Walnut.

Mr. and Mrs. Straub Leave for Europe In Mid September

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Straub, of Maryville, will leave New York, September 13, for a year's study in Europe. Bob who will receive his M.S. degree at the close of the summer session will do work on his doctorate at the University of Vienna.

The Straubs will leave New York, September 13, aboard the Goote Bear, of the Holland American Lines, and are expected to dock in Rotterdam, September 22. From Rotterdam the Straubs will travel to Brussels for a four day stay, during which they will take in the World's Fair which is being held in the Belgian Capital.

From Belgium they will cross the German border by train and travel along the Rhine valley before moving on to Munich; after which they will cross over into Austria.

While the Straubs will spend the majority of their time in Vienna they, however, hope to take side trips to the surrounding countries of Italy, Germany, Switzerland, France and Spain.

Bob received his B.S. in 1957 and will receive his M.S. this summer. Virginia received her B.S. in the spring of 1957.

assigned to a parking area. After the applications have been received the permits will be issued in the following order: faculty and employees, residents of dormitories, residents of quads and residents of College Heights. Permits for these people will be assumed when the cards have been completed and returned.

Permits for the following people will be given out on the first come, first served basis, until the lots are full. These people are college seniors, juniors and sophomores, freshmen and Horace Mann students.

The information needed to obtain a parking permit is the name, make of car, color of car, license number and state, local residence, permanent address, owner of car, owner's address, class and signature.

Rules are issued with each permit. The four rules are (1) Place decal on rear window of car (2) Park only in area designated (3) If you dispose of your car or exchange cars have the permit cancelled by informing the Business Office (4) The permit is not transferable and no duplicate will be issued without charge.

A record will be kept of the permits by the student's name and parking lot. This information will be available to the Campus Police. Rules will be enforced by the Student Court as well as the Campus Police. No warning tickets will be issued.

Funds collected from registration fees and fines collected from traffic violations by the Student Court shall be used to improve parking facilities on the campus.

The designated parking areas will be reserved only from 8:00 a. m. Monday until 4:00 Friday. The permits or decals must be placed in the rear window of the car and the car must be parked in the designated lot by September 15.

Freshmen to Have Four Day Program For Orientation

Dr. Charles E. Koerble, dean of faculty, has announced that there will be a four-day orientation program for the freshman this fall. During the four days of orientation the students will become acquainted with the campus and its different organizations. A series of tests have also been arranged and will be given over a three-day period.

On the first day, students will move into their dormitories and become acquainted generally with the campus. That evening a party will be held in the J. W. Jones Student Union in an attempt to bring the new students closer together. A general assembly on the second day will introduce the newly arrived students to a group of upper classmen, administrative officials and instructors.

During the remaining days of orientation a series of three or more two-hour tests will be given. A speech clinic will be set up under the supervision of the Speech Department to determine which students need assistance in that field. The fraternities, sororities, and the Independent Club will have an opportunity to explain their function on the campus to the newly arrived students.

This year there will be a separate Freshman-Faculty Reception during the orientation period. Upper classmen will also be on the campus to help the new students adjust to college life.

Numbering System To Go Into Effect This Coming Fall

A new numbering system of courses will become effective with the publication of the 1958-59 fall catalogue according to Dean Koerble.

Department chairmen have worked together in arranging a new numbering system. Letter designation of the old system came about when the pattern changed from quarter to semester terms early in the 1950's.

Under the new system only number designations will be used rather than the letter and number designations which had been used previously. For example, where humanities was referred to as 1b and 1c under the old system, it will now be referred to as humanities 1 and 2 under the new system. In some instances letter designation will be retained for better clarification. These exceptions together with the new numbering will be more meaningful to students of other schools when looking at our new catalogue.

The Physical Education Department has undergone a more extensive renumbering system. This department has been regrouped according to the level which the course would normally be taught, such as seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen.

There will be somewhat of a scheduling problem as a result of the new numbering system. Notices will be posted on the bulletin boards regarding the old and new system for the student's convenience. Upon registration this fall, students should seek advice of advisers and the new numbering schedules.

The records in the registrar's office will remain the same in regard to the previous number, letter designation system. Beginning this fall the new system will be recorded on the student's transcripts.

Upperclassmen register first this fall on Wednesday, September 10. Freshmen register Thursday, September 11 and classes begin on the following Friday, September 12. All students registering this fall semester should keep in mind this new numbering system when selecting their courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eisenberg, Ryan and Robert's sister, Zona Marie, plan to spend a week's vacation in Chicago beginning the third in August. The Eisenbergs also plan to sightsee and shop.

Mrs. Eisenberg is the Dean of Men's secretary. Robert and his sister are students of the college.

Vandals Of Campus Unidentified

Five brown-haired youths gave themselves up quietly when flushed from their underground hideout near the Student Union Thursday morning shortly after dawn.

The five, holed up in a well-fortified and securely hidden den, are known to be members of a carefully organized gang which has honeycombed the area to a depth and scope of penetration almost immeasurable.

College sleuths, working quietly on the case, have been aware for some time of the sabotaging being done to ground installations of lawn and shrubbery but could get no real leads on the culprits and learned little or nothing by direct evidence.

The crime-infested area had been kept under surveillance for several weeks and Thursday the trap was sprung catching the frightened five unprepared and defenseless.

Under questioning—possibly because of a language barrier—the five malefactors defied probes, refusing, with cool, expressionless insolence, to answer any questions on the ground that it might incriminate them.

To date authorities have been unable to identify any of the hoodlums nor have they been able to locate the parents of the vandals who are considered to be the "brains" of the organization.

The life of one of the captives was sacrificed in the interest of bacteriology. The rest are being held in custody until some final disposition of their unusual case is made.

Mr. Myles Grabau of the Biology Department and student Walter Conrad made the carefully timed raid and capture. Fully armed with large buckets of water they flushed out the sinister procession who came out with hair dripping and tails drooping.

Those versed in the field of Zoology believe the five are distantly related to the ground squirrel but positive identification has not been made by foot-print experts or specialists in the field.

"Whatever they are, they're pretty cute," said Grabau. "I think they'd make nice playmates for my pet crow."

Right now the young fellows are getting all the dog food they can eat and seem happily contented up in the Biology Department.

Later Life of "Our Hero Myles"

Any one interested in what happened to the bees subdued on campus by "Our hero, Myles?"

The bees were given, rent free, a small white one-story cottage located in a cozy and secluded spot behind the college greenhouse. Shade was furnished by low hanging branches of a tall pine and the whole setting had a serene and peaceful air.

The house equipped with all the modern conveniences for efficient and easy bee keeping—and situated so handily near the greenhouse—seemed ideal to the bees and they buzzed about putting everything in honeybee order.

Weeks passed and it seemed advisable to visit the hive to see if everything was progressing in an orderly manner. Harry Bowes, assistant Dean of Men, graduate student at the college and Assistant Scout leader, was given the job of exploring the hive.

Bowes, well protected and taking no chances on bees with unfriendly attitudes, approached the hive carefully and with misgivings. His coach, advisor and moral support was ten feet away peeking from behind a tree—"Our intrepid hero, Myles" of course—who else!

A cursory examination proved that the bees are headed for bad trouble unless drastic steps are taken soon. The "Worker" bees had been busily looking after the hive and had built up a good supply of honey. But the Queen, on whom the whole future of the hive depends, was—in common college parlance—"goofing off." There was not an egg, not a single young larvae and no visible hopes for a thriving future generation.

What happens now is a moot question. Unless the Queen settles down to domestic life and motherhood the whole hive is due to extinction just as soon as this generation has died off from overwork and hardship—a year or two at the most.

"Wonder if any one has a healthy and qualified Queen bee for sale," Bowes said sadly.

Parking Still a Problem

Parking problems still needlessly exist on this campus. The two main complaints at the present time are the failure of drivers to observe the "No Parking" signs and the failure of drivers to use proper methods of parking in the parking lots.

"No Parking" signs that are not being observed are located in the driveways near the Industrial Arts buildings, in the driveway in front of Residence Hall, and in certain areas behind the Administration Building. The Union drive, under control of the campus police, is no longer a problem.

The particular plon of the parking lot behind the Administration building makes it necessary to park at an angle. At present, different angles and methods of parking in the lot cause much space to be wasted.

If drivers of cars would park within a reasonable distance from other parked cars and at an angle in the direction of the flow of traffic, more cars could be accommodated in the lot.

If persons who drive would voluntarily observe the "No Parking" signs in the drives, the campus police would be free to attend to other problems on the campus. If the spaces in the parking lot behind the Administration building were adequately chalked or marked and if the wire down the center of the lot were kept in the proper position, students could be helped in these current campus problems. Of course in the fall this problem will be taken care of, but until that time it will be necessary for the students to show a sense of responsibility.

Impressionistic Drawings Spring to Life Before Eyes of Students

Impressionistic drawings sprang to life before the eyes of the audience at the assembly.

Don Freeman, noted artist, author and cartoonist, was introduced by Frank Grube. The free lance artist then proceeded to sketch six impressions of New York at night. "Magic Island", the White Way or a "Rainy Broadway," "Uptown," "The Village at night," "The Theatre," and his sketching of Julia Andrews in "Fair Lady."

Accompanied the mood of the artist's sketches. Diffused rays of light were added to colored fluorescent chalk which created a realistic scene. A three-dimensional picture was also drawn by the artist.

The artist and author also drew his past connection of drawings to the New York Tribune. Other incidents related by Mr. Freeman in the theatre and his long career backstage sketching and stagehands.

Children's books have been written by the noted author and artist. The author creates stories as he does his drawings.

Stories were drawn of the Catrains, the cat, Mafes, the pigeon, Cid. These creatures illustrated in a Mr. Freeman's books. Cid the pigeon illustrated from the author's latest exciting book, "Fly Low."

Campus Buildings Near Completion

Campus construction is in full swing. In the new men's quad, workmen have installed the conduit for the electrical wiring; base paint has been applied over which a multi-colored paint will be sprayed later. The bunks, study tables and chests have already been installed in many of the rooms of the new quad.

In the Women's Dorm additional advances have been made. The elevator between the new building and the older Residence Hall will accommodate residents of both the new and the old building.

Tiling has been started but there are no further signs of interior decorating at the present time underway in the women's dormitory.

Men have worked under a handicap because of rain which soaked the ground constantly but the workmen are now trying to make up for this delay by added effort.

Come and Get It

LIFE IN THE OLD WILD WEST . . . is experienced by these students of the Horace Mann Laboratory School who have just finished a study of this period in American History.

West Lives Again for Children

The old "West" was re-enacted in the first grade room of Horace Mann School Tuesday morning, July 15th.

The activities started at the beginning of the summer session, that of studying the lives and ways of cowboys and Indians led to the grand finale of a western style campfire breakfast last Tuesday. On Monday Miss Alexander brought some ice cream which the children churched in the class room. Money to buy the food with was raised from selling cookies on Thursday and Friday, July 10th and 11th. The total sum of the cookie sale was $18.96. The cookies were made by mothers of the students and also some were made by the students in the classroom. On Monday, July 14th the children were taken to the Kroger super market where the food for the cookout was purchased. On Friday, the 11th, the children were taken out to the Faustiana Farm where each member of the class went for a ride on a pony named "Lightning. They were also shown how horses were cared for and trained. A papier-mache horse was built by the students which they named "Starlight." Also each student made their own stick horse.

When breakfast was ready to be served everyone drew slips of paper to find out what their duty would be. One crew was to fix the eggs, while another was to fry the bacon. Others were to help with the serving of the meal, while still others were designated as guests. Everyone waited patiently while the breakfast was prepared. When the breakfast was ready everyone sat on the floor in a circle and said a little prayer to himself. Then gathering up their tin plates as a line was formed everyone was served a breakfast consisting of beans, bacon, eggs, bread and butter and donuts. The coffee then was served which was grape juice. The coffee pot was placed over the campfire to heat while the meal cooked. The beans were prepared in a regular old time bean pot, which brought lots of realism of true western dining.

Local Guard Unit Includes Many From Student Body of NWMSC

Located on the College campus is the Headquarters, Headquarters Battery, and the Air Section, 129th Field Artillery Battalion, 35th Infantry Division. This military organization is a part of the Missouri National Guard and is composed of personnel from this immediate area. Quite a number of men enrolled in College belong to this unit.

Lt. Col. Leigh R. Wilson is commander of the 129th F. A. Battalion. Five batteries compose the battalion. They are Headquarters Battery, A, B, D, and Service, located at Maryville, Clinton, Albany, Independence, and Lexington, respectively.

Headquarters Battery holds a drill period each Monday evening for two and one-half hours. Members are required to attend forty-eight meetings each year. During these meetings they receive training in such subjects as radio and telephone communication, radar, artillery survey and fire direction, and motor maintenance.

During the month of August the Battery participates in field training with the 35th Infantry Division at Camp Riley, Minnesota.

All regular Army schools are available to Guardsmen including West Point and Officer Candidate School. They are reimbursed for drill periods and summer training, and receive physical education credit for each quarter while they are members of the Guard in good standing. Some of the College students who belong to Headquarters Battery are Sterling Evans, Harlan Higginbotham, E. L. Reed, James McIntyre, Ross Roush, Lyle Welch, Marvin Reaksecker, and Don Pierpoint.

Add New Sport

In an attempt to broaden its intercollegiate sports program, the Northwest Missouri State College of Maryville has added still another first to the ever-growing list. This past school year wrestling was added and now the cross-country race will be admitted into the fold.

Consisting of a certain distance to the course, the cross country race is fairly simple and easy to understand. Each team is composed of five men. Points are awarded with each position finished in the race starting with one for first, two for second, etc. The team with the lowest total score for all five runners is declared the winner.

Prime candidates for this event are Charles Black and Bruce Wake. Both were distance runners during the track season this spring. They will be joined by others who have expressed an interest, including several promising incoming freshmen.

Mid-East Dispute May Affect You

White-hot glare of revolt makes Iraq, keystone of the Baghdad Pact, dominate the Newsmap of the Middle East. The fall of King Feisal's government and ascendancy of a junta headed by Gen. Abdel Kerim El Kassem deals a serious blow to the West's "shield" against Communist aggression in the Middle East. Turkey, Iran and Pakistan remain in the pact at the moment. The coup is a victory for pan-Arabism and greatly strengthens the position of Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic. Egypt and Syria in Mid-East affairs. The question will Jordan, too, fall to revolutionary forces as Mid-East builds explosively toward war potential. Great Britain is also a member of the Baghdad Pact.

LAST WORD

The talk of the summer session this year has been the weather—as when isn't it? Cool, cool, cool, wet, wet, wet. Some like it, some don't.

How about that lucky little girl who had her portrait drawn by Don Freeman while he was talking to the English 66 class? And he gave it to her for free! Draw my picture, will you, huh, mister?

Who remembers that Pat Nisely, recently elected president of the summer graduating class, was once chosen Homecoming Queen? Beauty, personality, brains—she is doing very nicely?

A note from Electa Bender Lyons, Class of 1942, now living in Hawthorne, California, says, "Congratulations on the fresh, good summer issues." We wondered how we were doing, and hope this flattery has a basis!

Incidentally, the summer Northwest Missourian can truthfully be said to have been put out by a skeleton staff. Have you noticed any of us lately? Aren't we walking skeletons, though? That's what worry and hard work will do.

Maybe you wonder why we shifted our publication date from Wednesday to Monday. Well, our very helpful and cooperative printer and make-up man at the Forum, Mr. Ursle Crockett, went on his vacation at noon Saturday, and so we rushed everything through. And now we are going on our vacation too, a permanent one as far as the Northwest Missourian is concerned. Bye! Bye!

THE MEN: Faces in Mideast News

FIGHTS NASSERISM—A key figure in the Middle East crisis is boyish-looking King Hussein of Jordan, whose cousin, King Feisal of Iraq was suddenly deposed by a pro-Nasser revolt in that country. Only 17 when he became king in 1953, Hussein has been engaged in a constant struggle against Nasserites who wanted him to submit to Egyptian domination. Hussein has turned to the West for aid to restore the throne in Iraq and to protect his own.

MIDEAST EXPERT—Lt. John Bagot Glubb, one of the world's leading experts on Middle East affairs, sees but one certain solution to the problem. Only by convincing the Arabs of the good intentions of the West toward them, says Britain's Glubb, can an intractable situation be permanently restored. Known to the world as "Pasha Glubb," he was chief of the Arab Legion until his ouster in 1956 by King Hussein of Jordan.
